LANCASTER.

Judge J. P. Bailey was here on Tuesday.

On Sunday a fine boy was added to the family of J. A. Royle.

Capt. T. A. Elkin and R. L. Hubble will soon ship several cars of mules to the Southern market.

Circuit court adjourned on Tuesday after all the business that could be reached had been disposed of.

I challenge any man to show me a horse over seven years old, if he is for sale, or a suit of clothes that is not all wool.

Ex Gov. Bradley will return to his old home, after making as good a governor as any republican could make. In fact he has made but few mistakes and leaves the affairs of the Commonwealth in good shape.

M. F. Rout showed me a bill of personality sold by R. L. Rout in 1849, which contains several novel features. Notes were given for any amount, however small. Horses sold for $25 to $40 and two sows and nine pigs for $6.

Miss Bertha Burnside and her little brother, Terrey, escaped without injury although their horse ran with the rockaway nearly half a mile and turned it over. They were brave enough to remain in the vehicle, which accounts for their good luck.

Judge J. C. Hemphill has rented his store room on the corner of public square and Lexington Avenue to R. Zimmer, of Richmond, who will run a confectionery and restaurant. He is well-known here and in your city. We are to have three restaurants and four hotels, so that no one will visit us and suffer of hunger.

Miss Rhena Mosher, National organizer of the "Y" W. C. T. U., will speak at Herring school-house next Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock, and at Hubble one week from that date at the same hour. Everybody is invited to attend. A collection will be taken at both meetings to defray expenses of the work.

Invitations are out for the marriage of Miss Sue Fisher Herring to Mr. Jerry Respass at the beautiful home of the bride's father, Dr. H. C. Herring, on Richmond Avenue on Wednesday morning, Dec. 20, at 9 o'clock. The prospective bride is a cultured young lady and a favorite in society. The prospective groom had charge of the corps of engineers, which surveyed the route for the Southern railroad last summer. During their stay here the attachment was formed which, it is hoped, will result in a long life of uninterrupted happiness. They leave at once for his home in North Carolina. It is understood that he will use his influence to give us the road, as he will feel an interest in our city.

Few cities are in better condition than Lancaster. The only indebtedness is $500 on the workhouse. The taxable property is $828,000, which, at 50 cents on each $100, will raise $4,140. All the current expenses, including $300 for repairing the roads and streets, $800 for lights, $2,000 for water and all the salaries, amount to only $3,879. This will leave two hundred and sixty dollars in the treasury each year, to which four hundred dollars should be added for poll and dog tax, making six hundred and sixty dollars, in excess of expenses, and new crossings have been completed. The rate is now 45 cents, and the taxpayers will certainly not object to 5 cents additional, to procure water, to say nothing of the reduction in the rate of fire insurance.

MATRIMONIAL MATTERS.

Fred Camden and Miss Minnie Hubble, who is a sister of Mrs. Garland Singleton, were married at Mr. Singleton's last night by that gentleman.

Weeden M. Starks, of Indiana Springs, Ind., and Miss Rose Davail, of Adair, will be married at the home of W. A. Reynolds, at Junction City, Wednesday.

The Auburn Advocate having printed a marriage notice in which it wished the couple a "long, beaueful and happy life," explains that the d, p and b boxes were mixed and the piece was overlooked by the proof reader.

The marriage of Mr. William Robertson Letcher, a prominent young attorney of Richmond and nephew of Col. W. R. Letcher, the well-known turfman, and Miss Annie Elizabeth Pearson, of Montgomery, Ala., has been announced to occur Dec. 21.

A young woman is on trial at Marshall, Mich., for killing her rich husband by feeding him glass. It was proved that she told a friend he had eaten so much glass that he's had a slight stroke of paralysis and is liable to live 10 years.

The battleship Texas, under command of Capt. Sigabee, left Norfolk, Va., Wednesday for Havana to bring home the bodies of those who perished in the explosion of the Maine.

Mr. Newton Hambrick, of Scott county, gathered from his garden a handful of ripe, well-developed raspberries. He has a number of bushes, nearly all of which are in bloom.

MT. VERNON.

The telephone company is putting in an exchange here.

Sparks & Co., brought 60 tie makers from Lincoln county.

The stove and lumber business at this point still continues brisk.

Our townsman, D. C. Poynter, has made application for a patent on an improved wagon wheel.

James Houk, Sr., has purchased an interest in the firm of Houk & Son. Business will be continued under the old firm name.

C. W. Catching was on Tuesday's train from Washington. He says Catching & Smith were awarded contracts on Dec. 7th, for 1,000 star routes, Ed Parker 235, Boreing & Pearl 600, C. N. Scoville 25, Frank Riley 20.

Fred Krueger is in from Hyden where he has got the new court house and two large brick business houses under roof. He saved a considerable lime bill by finding a black limestone ledge which makes a first class mortar, though in the burning the stone only yields about one third the lime as that here does.

Danville and Stanford ain't totin' fair in Southern railway business. Seems like they are attempting to make a catspaw of Louis Landram, who worked up the business, to a large extent, and now when the chestnuts are about roasted, they step in and want to hog the whole thing. Rockcastle wants the Lancaster route and we are here to tell you we won't stand idly by and have Louis mistreated. So there!

It appears that a majority of our town citizens are opposed to having the corporation continued. They claim that the amount of taxes collected and expended is out of proportion to the benefits received. Several have refused to pay the tax. The marshal has levied in some instances and the cases have been carried to the circuit court. There was never a town corporation carried on to suit everyone. The trouble is the people stand back and don't give the officers a fair show.

Williams is in Louisville on a visit from San Francisco, where he had been located in U. S. hospital work since his return from Manila. Cleyer W. H. Pettus is acting agent here during the sickness of J. A. Landrum, who is improving. E. S. Albright's school closes at Brodhead Friday, when he will assume full control of the Signal. W. C. Alexander, of Crab Orchard, who has been engaged some months at Lair, is at home dangerously ill of pneumonia.

Jason Wesley, of Middleburg, is visiting his brother, Theo. Wesley, the druggist. Chas. H. Rice, of Maywood, passed down to Livingston Tuesday.

Mrs. H. R. Fish has returned from a two months' visit to her son, John, at Edgeseed Junction, Tenn., telegraph operator at that point. Merchant U. G. Baker has purchased a fifty dollar phonograph and would be happy if he had a "record of Gov. Bradley's farewell address delivered at the inauguration." R. A. A., will leave that place shortly for Europe, visiting the old world and taking in the Paris World's Fair and

On the same day they left for a few days visit to Cincinnati, from which place they will return to the groom's father's, where they will make their home. Miss Butler is a daughter of Mr. Flem Butler, of Wildie, and is a beautiful and accomplished young lady. Mr. McClary is the son of Mr. J. K. McClary, of this place, and a promising and popular young man.

Their many friends at this place wish them a long and happy life.

The supreme court of North Carolina decides that it is illegal for any railroad to give a pass in that State and has imposed a fine of $5,000 against the Southern road for issuing one.

Fayette Telephone Company, of Lexington, which proposes to place in operation lines in competition to the Eastern Tennessee Telephone Company, has begun business.

It is stated that the Queen's mental anxiety over the war in South Africa gives the greatest alarm to the royal household.

NEWS OF THE VICINAGE.

Mrs. Fox, the aged mother of our good friend, Joe A. Fox, of Somerset, died a few days since.

According to surveys the center of Kentucky is in Garrard county, four miles West of Lancaster.

The contest at Middlesboro, which was instituted by the defeated republican councilmen, has been withdrawn, they deciding that there was no hope of winning, as the democratic members have taken their seats and are now in charge of affairs.

William Treadway's barn at Manchester was set on fire by unknown persons, and it and the entire contents were destroyed. The barn was a large one, worth about $1,500, and was filled with hay and corn. One valuable horse and eight fat hogs perished in the flames. This is the second time that Treadway has lost property at the hands of his enemies.
